Barbara Corcoran

Barbara Corcoran's credentials include straight D's in high school and college and twenty jobs by the time she turned twenty-three. It was her next job that would make her one of the most successful entrepreneurs in the country when she took a $1,000 loan to start The Corcoran Group. She parlayed the loan into a five-billion-dollar real estate business and sold it in 2001 for $70 million. She has also heavily invested in income-producing property in the New York City area.

Barbara is the real estate contributor for NBC's TODAY Show where she comments weekly on trends in the real estate market. Barbara is an investor/shark on ABC's reality hit Shark Tank. In the first season, Barbara bought eight young businesses which she's shepherding to success.

Barbara is the author of Use What You've Got, an entertaining business book that has become a national best-seller, as well as Nextville, Amazing Places to Live Your Life.

About Girls Incorporated of Westchester County

Changing Lives

Girls Inc.® is a well-known nonprofit organization with roots dating back to 1864 and national status since 1945. For almost 150 years, Girls Inc has responded to the needs of girls and their communities through programs and advocacy that empower girls to reach their full potential and assert their rights. Every year, Girls Inc. reaches more than 940,000 6–18 year old girls through its website, educational publications and through a network of 1,700 program sites in the U.S. and Canada. These sites include schools, community centers and 73 Girls Inc. affiliate organizations like Girls Inc. of Westchester.

Changing Westchester

Girls Inc. of Westchester County began in 2006 with the goal of helping girls in our area find the strong, smart and bold inside of them. There are 80,000 girls ages 6–18 in Westchester County and there is a tremendous need for Girls Inc's programs and empowering messages. Westchester provides local girls with field tested, relevant programs that help them build their potential, avoid at-risk circumstances, confront and overcome challenges, and experience a sense of accomplishment. Girls Inc. Westchester opens girls' minds to their own potential and to the promise of a bright future.
